

Carry the products that set your stores apart.

Why would someone choose to shop with you versus another store? Because when you work with CAD import, you have access to nostalgic, hard-to-find brands that attract diverse consumers.

Grocery stores and retailers in the United States that cater to Hispanic and Latino customers are growing. When you offer those customers products that they are familiar with, you create a sustainable, happy client base.

Every product we carry—from health and beauty, grocery items, household goods and much more—complies with local and international regulations and standards is manufactured in the U.S., Latin America and other parts of the world.

Large orders, small orders, and everything in between, At CAD Import, we're happy to work with distributors of any size.

Staffed by dedicated professionals who know the distribution business and the needs of our clients, CAD Import is ready to take care of your needs.
